NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Gambler Preparing to Open Their Dens in Long Abandoned Stands.

LOADS OF TOOLS BROUGHT FROM OMAHA Room at the Corner of Main and Broadway Occupied. Dr. Cleaver's Sentiments Not Announced—Chances for War Are Good.

The gamblers who have been driven out of Omaha are dropping one by one into Council Bluffs, and familiar faces are again seen haunting the street corners that have been seen only occasionally for a good many months past.

Monday night a wagon drove up in front of a building on the corner of Main street and Broadway, loaded with gambling tables and devices, which were transferred into the second story of the building, the latter having been used as a gambling house some four years ago, when everything was being run wide open.

The report has been circulated that another "wide open" time may be expected, and the report is commonly heard on the street that it made no difference what party was successful at the polls last Monday, the gamblers would be allowed to carry on their work without molestation during the next two years.

Just how Dr. Cleaver, the newly-elected, stands on the question has not yet been made public, but from those who are in a position to know, it is believed that he will not be in a position to do anything to prevent the return of the gambling houses.

The gamblers undoubtedly will be allowed to open up their dens, and there will be little, if any, change from Mayor Lawrence's plans in the matter of gambling houses.

KEPT A-HUSTLING

Like Busy Bees.

The immense crowds that have thronged the BOSTON STORE, COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA., have kept their immense force of clerks hustling every day all day long.

No lot up to the bargain offered during the sale. Sale continues all this week.

Watch tomorrow's papers for a new list of bargains.

BOSTON STORE, 207 North 10th Street, Omaha, Neb.

There was weeping and gnashing of teeth among the dealers yesterday afternoon, but the cause thereof did not fully appear until now.

As already stated in The Bee, there was a barn just back of the polling place in the Second precinct of the Second ward, which had been engaged as a counting place for the election.

Among the paraphernalia to be found on the inside was a large jug of whiskey, which was constantly replenished from some unseen source as fast as its contents had found their way down the gulches of thirsty voters.

The "counting" had been going on all afternoon when suddenly, at the most critical time, a panic was caused by the announcement that the jug and all its contents had disappeared.

A hasty search was made and it was found that some wretch who had not the good of his party at heart had broken a latch on the back door of the barn and had slipped in just as some ward hucker and his prospective voter slipped out of the front door.

He was making off with the jug and all its contents, and the wretch who had broken the latch was making off with the jug and all its contents.

AFTER THE "BLIND TIGER"

Probation Leader of Iowa Satisfied with the Mole Bill.

FUNK OF HARDIN AGREES TO COMPROMISE

Friends to Think that While Saloons Will Not Be Licensed by the Measure It Will Give Security to Well Regulated Joints.

DES MOINES, March 7.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The mole bill came up as a special order in the house today.

Mr. Funk of Hardin, leader of the prohibitionists, made a lengthy speech. He said he accepted the bill as a compromise and because he did not believe it would legalize the saloon.

He stated that according to his information there were 300 saloons in Dubuque and an equal number in Sioux City running open and unregulated, and in Des Moines there were said to be 200 "blind tigers" where liquor could be procured in violation of law, and it was the purpose of this bill to suppress as many of such places as possible and impose wholesome restrictions upon those that continued to exist.

It thought there was room for but one license party in Iowa, and this position had already been pre-empted by the democrats.

Mr. Robinson moved that the democratic caucus bill be submitted for the pending measure, but no vote was reached. The debate will be continued from day to day.
